

Training Fee Increase (Effective January 2023)

Despite saving travel costs over these last years due to COVID, a DEQ revenue/fee audit revealed that DEQ needs to increase stormwater and erosion training fees to ensure the training program can remain self-sustaining over the long term.

We are able to keep certification class fees lower than comparable training elsewhere by including a nominal fee for day long continuing education classes. All classes are priced below industry market value.

Short webinar presentations (live & recorded) will remain free.

DEQ SWM/ESC training fees - effective January 1, 2023

- Continuing Education (per class): $50 (from $0)
- RLD (initial & renewal): $120 (from $115)

Class enrollment fees

- Program Administrator: $100 (from $80)
- Inspector: $200 (from $160)
- Plan Reviewer: $300 (from $260)

Renewal fees (every 3 years)

- Program Administrator: $100 (from $78)
- Inspector: $100 (from $78)
- Plan Reviewer: $120 (from $94)
- Combined Administrator: $130 (from $105)

Over the last eight years, DEQ has invested in staffing, online infrastructure, and IT security for the stormwater and erosion training program.

We appreciate your involvement in making the Virginia stormwater and erosion training program best in class.
